From Your President

Thanks to Hal Weiner, his financial background and the finance committee appointees, I will be one of the guys that gets to hand out the money that the Keilhorn trust has graciously bestowed upon us. Ken Luse the new V.P. and a prominent member of the financial committee is familiar with the grant procedure and will help in assuring the district applications focused on the requirements set forth by the trust.

Ken was also the prime mover in the in the reformatting and change of vendor for the Hoedowner.

Hal and Ken are two examples of the many dedicated volunteers that bring order to what could be chaos as the membership shifts, the Hoedowner is delivered on time and the districts continue to perform and teach the next generation of expert fiddlers. Would we have a history without Lou Holt?

I am delighted to be able to serve with the guys and gals that keep it going.

Sharon Thompson our hard-working treasurer, has asked that I remind all districts that for insurance purposes she needs the district equipment inventories. Insurance will not cover districts that have the appearance of owning no equipment nor can we process equipment grant request without your inventory.

Enough for now.

~ Larry

From the Editor

Coming back from Burns, out in the middle of the very dry high desert, I came upon a surreal sight: a Department of Fish and Wildlife boat checkpoint. I stopped to inquire. It turns out the inspector was looking for a nasty invasive species, the Quagga mussel, on boats coming north out of California and west, out of Idaho. Boats moving east from western Oregon were not being checked because there is insufficient mineral content in the water for mussels to create shells, and they cannot survive. The mussels are small, reproduce rapidly and in large numbers, block water inlets and piping, threaten the survival of other species, and are a significant ecological threat.

Starla Sheppard, daughter of long-time OOTFA member Winston Graham, writes to say that a "surprise birthday party" is being planned for Winston, who is in his nineties, on August 11 at 1 p.m., probably in Harlan. The idea is to have a picnic and jam, with OOTFA members and friends welcome. Exact details, still being worked out, will be in the August Hoedowner.

The La Pine campout, scheduled for August in past years, is no more, alas.

Last month, if you recall, we printed a query from Ella Savery, District 5, wanting to know if anyone knew the name of the song with the words "Here I am, all broken-hearted, all because of you." Well, we have the answer, Ella, courtesy of Addison Talbot and Peggy Mulder: "Something in My Heart," by Ricky Skaggs.

From the Editor Emeritus

I ran across this paragraph recently: Edna Yohey reflecting on the January, 1969 convention. She wrote: "If I remember right, it was held in the Moose Lodge in Corvallis. Harold Allen, a charter member, lived in Corvallis at the time and he and Bill made the arrangements. It had started to snow that evening, but we didn't expect it to amount to much. By the time we got out of the dance there were several inches of snow and it was coming down hard. A group of us had arranged to stay at the Allens and the next morning there were about 30 inches of snow on the ground. Lloyd and Wanda Wanzer had come over from Idaho and Don and Nellie Gish, who lived in Yakima, were there so we all ended up staying an extra day, waiting for the roads to be plowed. That was a record snowfall and hit all over the state. When it melted, there were quite a few floods. I think we changed the date after that."

(That same week end I went from North Bend to Portland to a meeting. Sunday I stopped in Eugene for another meeting.

When I came out of the meeting, there were eight inches of snow and the freeway was closed. That night it snowed 36 inches. Luckily Alice's brother lived in Eugene so I had a place to stay. I didn't get back home to North Bend until Tuesday. (Lew)

By the time you read this, history will have been made. Many of us will have had a great time in Burns. Alice and I went to our first contest in Burns in 1988. As we drove up and before we got out of the pickup, Ruel asked me to MC that evening - he was backing up contestants. And then the next morning he asked me again -- finished the contest. Next year he asked me months before. Alice and I have been to two contests, a street dance, two years in the theater and then many years at the fairgrounds. (Missed 1992 and 2007.)

Now on to Weiser - hope I see many of you there.

~ Lew

I regret to report that Jim Lancaster passed away June 19. We extend our condolences to Jim's family and friends. Also our condolences to Johnny Rogers and all the family; John's mother passed away this past week.

Jake & I were able to go to the Country Music Jamboree; it was so much fun. Nice to see all our friends, also met several new people, and saw lots of new faces --- hopefully we will see them all again at Merrill.

Birthdays this month are John Northcraft, Fran Coker, Jim Lancaster, Les Tucker, June Sandusky, Loraine Degnan, & Ali Swartwood. We hope all of you have a happy one.

Anniversary for July is Lynn & Mike Foster.

Happiness never decreases by being shared.

There were many dancers and three visitors to District 3 on the sunny Sunday June 10th jam held at the VFW Hall. We had three OOTFA visitors, starting with Fred Young from District 10, who took the stage with his delightful songs and fiddling. Also attending was banjo player Ernie Connelly from District 6. Ernie played several tunes and was much appreciated for filling in great banjo licks during the afternoon. We have a new member in District 3 with Julie Turner visiting and fiddling with us from District 5, and recently moving to La Pine. Welcome Julie!

Another lovely spring/summer day at Fruitdale Grange. We had a pretty good turnout as more folks kept coming in after we started. Lots of good music and dancing. Our next jam on July 7 is a "bring your own" picnic at Prospect Lions Park. Cold drinks will be provided.

We played at Hanley Farm for about 500 kids – 4th graders from all over the area. They joined in singing, doing the Virginia Reel, and many dances of their own. Everyone had a good time.

We had perfect weather playing for an outdoor barbecue for four foster care homes, and the residents and guests really enjoyed the music! The Meadows Activity Dinner at the Meadows Modular Home Park in Central Point had us playing to a full house of folks who asked for schedules to hear us again.

When Ron Bolstad and Judy M. played a lively version of "Old Joe Clark" for a group of kindergarteners, one cute little 5 year-old girl was heard to remark: "That's the BEST music I've ever heard in my WHOLE life!!"

The beginning fiddle class now has two adults and six youngsters who are starting to play tunes and smile at the same time! Several are using our loaner instruments; we really appreciate those who have donated them.

1 Jam & Potluck Roxy Ann Grange 11:30 a.m.

We welcome new members Kathleen and Gene Rahenkamp and daughter Breanna – Gene and Breanna are beginning fiddlers. Also new members Michelle Chen and Peter Yang and their two daughters Justine and Jade who are learning to play fiddle.

It's still not too late to apply for scholarships for the summer, especially with fiddle camps coming up soon.

Lots of playing this summer, and we need all the players we can get.

Coming up this month are the Jackson County Fair, July 18 and 20, and Central Point Park music festival, also on the 20th. They are two of our big donors, so we need to put on a good show.

The Wild Rogue Cowboy Gathering is June 30 in Williams. Britt Children's Festival wants us back on July 9 – strolling through the area. We need many players for these and all summer gigs. Check the calendar on the website or call a staff member. Y'all come!

Lots of stuff coming up – West Cascades Fiddle Camp, Diamond Lake campout, Winchester Bay campout – many opportunities to share music with all you folks from all over!

Did you hear about the mandolin player who bragged he could play 32nd notes? The rest of the group didn't believe him, so he proved it by playing one.

You musicians will be busy this month with the performances listed above plus your preparations for your presentations at the Winchester Bay campout on August 16th --19th. The evening performances on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday will start at 6:00 p.m. The theme for the Saturday evening show will be farm and barn-yard animals. Maybe old Rover or red rooster will help you sing!

The kitchen crew will also be busy preparing a lasagna dinner for all state members and families at 5 p.m. on Thursday evening. District 5 members with last names beginning with letters A to M are asked to bring salads to accompany the lasagna and those from N to Z are asked to bring two dozen or more cookies, home-made or bakery, please. We need lots of cookies--and more cookies. Those fiddlers inhale them with their coffee!

We have two new members, Susan and Ken Joubert, from North Bend. He plays guitar; she had the opportunity to demonstrate her coffee-making skills at the first jam after they joined. Both did a great job and we are looking forward to seeing them often at our jams. We are sad to report that we are losing some members and will miss seeing them and hearing them play. Shannon

Stein and her family are moving to the Springfield area and Julie Turner has already moved to another state. Know that we will be thinking of you both and wish you all the best.

Guests at the May jam were Marlene and John Renfro from District 4 and Sharon and Hal Thompson from District 10 and their friend Karen and her husband, whose name I didn't get. Always enjoy your music, John and Hal, and Karen's performance was also very enjoyable.

Several of the District 5 musicians were gone to other events and weren't here for the monthly jam in June. Some attended the Country Music Jamboree in Burns and then went on to Weiser for the National Fiddle Contest. Not sure who went where but will try to list them next month.

Mapril and Grant Combs were vacationing in Maui and Ruth and Pat Weyer were attending the high school graduation of a grand daughter in Snohomish, WA. Wherever you were, hope you all had a good time.

Some mistakes are too much fun to make only once.

Yoshe Zohar

Yoshe Zohan

My name is Yoshe Zohar and I just turned 11. I started playing the fiddle last winter when Judy McGarvey started teaching a class after school once a week at Madrone Trail. I didn't really care if I played or not but Judy kept teaching a few of us after school ended and I started learning a lot of songs. I didn't really want to go to the jams, but after a while they became fun because everyone there is so friendly. Grace Anderson and I are the only two from that group that are still regularly going to the weekly jams.

My dad and I went to the West Cascades Fiddle Camp last summer and it should be even more fun this summer. We also went to the OOTFA state convention where we met a lot of great people that encourage me to keep playing and learning the old time fiddle tunes.

Grace and I competed in the Oregon State Fiddle Contest and our teacher from Medford came to watch us, which was really special. My mom said, "that's a lot of fiddling" about the contest. I am looking forward to going to Weiser this June and competing in the National Fiddle Contest. It will be so fun to be on stage with Judy and everyone representing Oregon Fiddlers. This is a picture of me when I was "Pecos Bill" in our 5th grade class play. I got to lead my class fiddling Red River Valley for our encore. I also started playing the mandolin this year. I like learning the fingering on the mandolin first, plus it's quieter when I'm playing in the family room. My sister laughs when I learn songs on the mandolin way faster than my dad. I also love to draw, play baseball, and play with our three dogs.

Fiddle Tips by Eileen Walter – Slides - Part 1

Slides are an integral part of playing the fiddle. Slides can embellish notes, they can be a necessary part of a tune, and they are used to make proper intonation easier to attain.

A fiddler must learn to keep a light touch with the left hand, as a tight grip will make it more difficult to slide a finger. If you feel that you're gripping the fingerboard too tightly, experiment with how little pressure you can exert and still get the proper sound – you may be surprised!

Slides can be long or short, depending on the style or the tune. One can slide into a note from a lower pitch, one can slide into a note from a higher pitch (although this is not common), and one can slide out of a note (usually to a lower pitch). One can slide into and out of the same note – I call this "bending" the note.

I use at least small slides in every tune I play. I make use of longer slides in many rags – (such as Texas Crapshooter Rag, Rat Cheese Rag, Maynard's Rag, Beaumont Rag, and Lone Star Rag). Many tunes incorporate a slide along with a shift to a higher position. Many waltzes - (such as Morning Star Waltz, Kelly's Waltz, and Wednesday Night Waltz) have slides along with double stops. Occasionally after playing a single note, another note is added to form a double stop. The double stop has a better chance of sounding in tune if the fiddler begins the added note slightly flat and moves it up until it sounds in tune with the existing note. This may require moving other fingers out of the way.

Practice sliding into notes while playing scales. Of course, this will require moving fingers out of the way. There is much to say about slides, and I've run out of room for this column, so I'll continue in my next column. I hope everyone has a great summer filled with music.

Tune of the Month – Using Slides: The Rat Cheese Rag

Eileen Walter sent along this improbably named tune, about which she says, "...it does have slides in the last line. It slides up to third position in the first measure of the last line and slides back down to first position at the end of the second measure."

We're here at the Country Music Jamboree in Burns having a great time with lots of visiting, jamming, eating and enjoying all the activity. We're missing those who couldn't make it and praying for those who are ill.

Cherry City Sound with Phil Drain as sound engineer did a great job this year and was well received by the musicians and audience.

Former District 9 members back for a visit included Julia Milleson, Hugh Galliher, Jim and Kandi Sahlberg and Donna and Dennis Townsend. Donna brought a number of water color paintings of fiddlers she's painted over the last year and Dennis brought a multitude of instruments to play. He also hosted the "unique instrument" workshop.

The family of District 6 fiddler Connie King Hill was in attendance and invited the fiddlers to visit the Burns cemetery to play a few tunes at Connie's final resting place. Thanks go to Lew and Alice Holt, Ruel and Margaret Teague, Mary Ausmus, Joan Suther and Janet Braymen for taking the time to honor a very fine lady.

The Jamboree was well attended and thanks go out to all the OOTFA members who come and make it such a wonderful event. Fifty-five campsites were filled and over 200 folks signed the guest book. There were people from Oregon, California, Washington, South Dakota, Alaska, Wisconsin, Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Texas, Indiana and Brazil in attendance.

Congratulations to the raffle winners, Tom Abernathy- fiddle, Wayne Johnson – Diamond Hotel Package, and Jim Kuether – quilted music bag donated by Art Bigelow.

Another shout of thanks goes out to the folks who helped with the cleanup of the grounds. Thankfully everyone does their part, so the work goes quickly.

Two new members were signed up at the jamboree for District 9: Bobbie Rozeboom and Diane Chase. Welcome.
