District 1 members are always having fun when we are together, whether it's practicing or playing at the care homes. We had a great time playing our Valentine's tunes for all of them. We made Valentine cards for them which they loved.

We have a new member, John McCormick. He had a night club with a band in Southern California and did a lot of entertaining. John will be an great addition to our group, being an amazing guitarist and vocalist. We are already enjoying his fun songs. Our other newer member, Jay Schindler, a banjo player, is really adding to our district. He played "It's A Blue Blue Day", at our last gig and really nailed it. One of our Junior Fiddlers, Rebecca Hazen, has been coming and helping us out at the care homes. We love having her, a very talented fiddler. We want to mention some of our less active members: Rose Maness and Dawn Maupin. Their health has not been the best and we hope that they get better soon and we will get to see them out and about soon. District 1 sends special get well wishes to Ken Luse, as we have heard he has been in the hospital. Hope he can get back into playing again. Our very own Irene Ruddock has had a medical issue and had to spend a few days in the hospital. We hope she has a speedy recovery, we need her fiddle playing. We miss your fiddling too, Jenny.

Can you believe it is already March? Since I'm writing this in February I wonder if it will come in like a lamb or a lion in Klamath Falls. I bet some of those members in the valley and the coast are starting to see signs of Spring, though it will be a while for it to happen here. Well, it's time to start practicing some of those Irish tune for St. Patrick's Day. We have a list, do you all have one?

Wishing Happy Birthday to all of our March members. Have a special day. Happy Trails and Best Wishes from District 1.

The days are getting longer, so we'll be breaking out of winter. Daylight Saving Time starts on March 12 and spring begins on March 20. This will make participating in music activities so much easier. Easier to travel. Fingers get warmer and more flexible.

Officers for District 3 are needed for the June 1, 2023 to May 31, 2024 year. Please consider serving in one of our positions. Interest and participation are at their highest level we've seen in several years. Our Nominating Committee will be contacting members.

LeRoy Newport is formulating plans for a Western Swing Music Workshop. This is an interesting music style that often features fiddle leads, is very danceable, and is just plain fun to listen to. It's a combination of old-time, classic country, jazz and other music styles. Interested? See contact info for LeRoy above. Regular jams and junior jams: Dates, times, locations, and contact information will be posted in the District 3 section of the Hoedowner and the District 3 website.

Chance Mott, one of our junior members, has the honor and privilege of studying with the award-winning fiddler, Aaron Carter. Her band provides music for the Yellowstone TV series.

Margaret Keene, a long-time active member of Oregon Oldtime Fiddlers Association, passed away recently. Margaret was a true lover of old-time music, classic country, and traditional jazz. She played several instruments, primarily mandolin and clarinet. Also, she was a good harmony vocalist. She was well-loved by many of us and we will certainly miss her.

Thought for the month of March: March is the only month that has the same name as a style of music. There are several marches in old-time music. Can be in 2/4, 4/4 or 6/8 time. Examples: "Campbells Farewell to Redcastle" (sometimes played as a reel), "Stars & Stripes Forever", "Scotland The Brave", "Brian Boru's March".

Hopes of an early Spring are on hold today as we wait a valley snow storm tonight.

The February District 4 monthly meeting and jam was held at the Roxy Ann Grange in Medford. Carol Ferrara had the hall decorated with red ribbons and hearts in a lovely Valentine's Day theme. The jam was well attended with 22 musicians and a lively audience and several dancers. Judy McGarvey and Matthew Baker wowed the audience with their renditions of "Jessie Polka" and "Peacock Rag". Cindy Crane led the audience in singing "Red River Valley". We were so happy to welcome back Ron Boldstad.

The district gave a performance at a new facility in Central Point, Alderwood, and they were so well recieved. The residents clapped and cheered, and requested that we come again soon.

The district will close out the month with a performance at Morrow Heights facility in Rogue River. The March Jam will be held in Rogue River at the Rogue River Community Center Annex on March 4th. There will be NO MEETING! The musicians will gather at 12:00. We are so happy to be back playing for an audience in Rogue River. Hope to see you there!

March Events

18	Stage Show & Circle Jam Winchester Bay	11 am - 3 pm
21	Island Point Gig	2 - 3 pm
28	Practice at Inland Point	1 - 3 pm

As we leap like Leprechauns into March, we have some things to look forward to this month. For starters, we will again hit the stage on the third Saturday at Winchester Bay Community Center. We returned to the stage format in January. It was great fun and we had a terrific and appreciative community turnout for our debut. There's nothing like experiencing the spirited Fiddle Jamboree, which kicks off the beginning of the show! COVID has kept us limited to Circle Jams since 2020; but we often had the support of music enthusiasts and fans who knew we were playing. They came and stationed themselves around the room, listening appreciatively. We are grateful to be able to share our music with the public once more!

We will continue with our performance gigs in our regularly scheduled assisted living facilities. These folks really count on us to bring them the old-time music and we don't disappoint them. It's affirming and also sweet to see some of the folks in our audience singing along, or perhaps even wiping an unbidden tear from a cheek. The songs we play bring memories. The audience will also get to feast their eyes upon our "wearing of the green," since many of our players like to dress festively to correspond to the holiday. Wait until they get a gander at Mapril's St. Paddy's Day green, sequined tennis shoes!

Al Pierce gets his Irish on

I asked our learned music historian and general scholar, Al Pierce, if Irish music, particularly fiddle music, could be considered Old-Time? He responded with a short answer: "It Better Be!" Al's longer answer is too long to include in its entirety in our column here, but suffice it to say, it is really interesting and in true Albert Pierce form, thorough and well-researched. He said, in part: to even talk about "Old-Time Fiddle Music" without including the hundreds of tunes which the immigrants from the British Isles brought with them to the New World would be the equivalent of talking about airplanes without mentioning the Wright brothers. I have no idea how many Irish tunes are still being played by "old-time" musicians today, but take it for granted that it is huge. Are these tunes the exact same tunes that they played in Ireland in the 1700's? Sometimes, maybe. Sometimes not. Music evolves. One example: The tune "Whiskey Before Breakfast" is one of our more popular tunes. Its origin is disputed. Some say Ireland. Some say Canada. On the other hand, the lyrics were written by an American. And we have no idea what the "original" tune sounded like, anyway. So, can we really call it "Old-Time?" "Red-Haired Boy" is another example. It's most likely Irish, though some claim it might be Scottish. It is also known as "The Duck Chews Tobacco," "Little Red Fox," "Old Soldier With a Wooden Leg," and "The First of May," along with other names.

The tune dates back to the 1600's. On the other hand, when called "Little Beggar Man," the lyrics date from about 1920. So, which version is Old-Time? How was it played 350 years ago? On a personal note, many of the fiddle tunes I play on mandolin do not conform "exactly" to the written versions. Then again, oft times, there are variations between the written versions, as well, so what the heck am I playing anyway? So, in short, take all the aforementioned "ingredients," put them in a pot, cook them for a couple of hundred years, while adding "spices" from all around the world, and is it any wonder why we sometimes disagree on the definition of "Old-Time Fiddle Music?" One thing for sure, though, Old-Time Music is, most definitely, part Irish.

Well, begorrah, Al! And thank you very much. I wish I could have included your entire offering on Irish Old-Time Music. You are a wealth of interesting information! Incidentally, the jocular Irish saying, "Begorrah," was first known to be used in 1715, according to Merriam-Webster.

Tune of the Month

Thanks to David Altman of District 7 for this month's tune

Here's the transcription of a tune I learned from the blind fiddler and mandolin player, Kenny Hall, who stayed with me from time to time when he came to Oregon. No one knows who wrote it, but Kenny heard it (Little Girl Dressed in Blue) on KLX radio in Oakland in 1933; the radio show was called the Woolly West Review. Kenny taught me the tune on the mandolin, so my transcription would be the only one other than a fiddle transcription from an out-of-print book called Kenny Hall's Music Book published in 1971.

Little Girl Dressed in Blue

The musical score is written in 4/4 time and consists of eight staves of music. The melody is primarily in the treble clef. Chord symbols are placed above the staff lines. The lyrics are written below the notes. The score includes a yodel section starting at measure 17.

Staff 1: Chords: C, F. Lyrics: I fell in love with a pret - ty lit - tle girl. Her name I do not (chorus)Well, she al - most drives me cra - zy, and I don't know what I'll

Staff 2: Chords: (Dm), G. Lyrics: know. I meet her in the eve - ning where - e - ver I may do if I don't find the pretty little girl that I saw dressed in

Staff 3: Chords: C, F. Lyrics: go. She wears a white lace hank - ker - chief that's marked with "B" and blue. She al - most drives me cra - zy and I don't know what I'll

Staff 4: Chords: (Dm), G. Lyrics: "U." I know her when I see her, she's the little girl dressed in do if I don't find the pretty little girl that I saw dressed in

Staff 5: Chords: C, C, A, D. Lyrics: blue. (yodel)

Staff 6: Chord: G. (No lyrics)

Staff 7: Chords: C, A, D. (No lyrics)

Staff 8: Chords: G, C. (No lyrics)

And now, I get to quote District 10's own, Joe Ross, who, together with our Luke VerHagen, have planned an April Fool's Day Potluck and Jam in Scottsburg. Joe says: "A joint District 5 & 10 potluck/jam on Saturday, April 1 will take place at the Scottsburg Community Center (35066 Umpqua Hwy 138). Potluck at 11 am, with a Circle Jam to follow from 12 - 3 pm. OOTFA folks from other districts might want to join us too. If your last name begins with A - H, please bring a salad. If you are I - Q, bring a casserole or main dish. R - Z, bring a dessert. Carpooling is recommended as there is limited parking at Scottsburg Community-Center (old school house)" .

You will find the Center easily, since it is one of the few buildings on the highway going through town. Thank you Joe and Luke, for organizing this really fun day. In Joe's words, "I think it'll be a real wing-ding of a party!" No foolin', pack your instruments and your potluck offering and let's all gather in Scottsburg on April Fool's Day!

Finally, no matter whether you don your wearin' of the green or just play Irish tunes in March, may your day, heck, your whole month, be blessed by some Irish good luck! Now pick a four leaf clover and keep the music and friendship flowing.

District 6 folk love the Central Grange Jam! We always have an excellent turnout. We share music and food and then more music. At our last get-together we also included a district meeting to address some issues that have been brewing.

Despite the musical enthusiasm of our jams, we are experiencing a problem with finding enough people to play at our gigs. I should qualify that by saying "fiddlers and bassists to play at our gigs", as there are always enough of us guitarist-types to go around. These are paid gigs that contribute to our coffers. They are a great deal of fun and the audiences are always appreciative.

Lisa Ponder, Chuck Roehrich, Linda Parks, Amy Burrow and Jerry Parks at the Frontier Heritage Fair

It is my opinion that the Intermediate Fiddle Class, which is always well attended, has plenty of musicians who are quite competent with their fiddles. Usually there is an experienced fiddler on hand at the gigs to lead the way, so don't be shy! Let Amy or me know you want to play some gigs!

On the Saturday before Valentine's Day, 17 members of District 7 played for the Eagle Creek Grange #297 at their annual Sweetheart Dinner. The musicians received a delicious dinner, then played for an hour to an appreciative crowd, with dancers emerging among the audience and our musicians. Some of our members were photographed at the colorfully decorated Sweetheart background (mostly pink), to the delight of onlookers.

Our popular 1st Saturday monthly jams continue to draw an average of 35-40 attendees, including spectators. Barb Petrin has been providing delicious goodies for several years but it's time to give her a break, so we need volunteers to provide snacks at the monthly jams. Another change is that Joe Martin is stepping down from his scheduling role, where he has done an excellent job. Marcella Easley will temporarily serve as our scheduler until a replacement volunteer is found. Contact Marcella if you can help

We're profiling our member Rick Winter this month. Rick was born and raised in Pendleton, and moved west to work at Tektronix in 1992. He kept busy musically his whole life with piano, fiddle, guitar, banjo, bass, mandolin, dobro, and he sings too. In between all that music, he managed to get an education, serve in the Navy, get a pilot's license, and have a career in electronics. His mother played the fiddle, and his first babysitter was also a piano teacher. One of his brothers became an opera singer and another brother is a cellist. Highlights, not necessarily in order: Walking 19 blocks to get to his fiddle lessons as a child; making guitar strings from his father's fishing line for a $2 junkyard guitar; working at his family-owned car dealership in Pendleton; 4 years in the Navy including duty in Sicily, Memphis, and Newport, Rhode Island, where he got out of the Navy in 1970, maneuvered his upright bass into his VW Beetle, and drove home to Oregon; playing banjo in a band called "The Uncalled Four"; electronics training in the Navy and electronics classes at Blue Mountain Community College; seeing the automobile market fall apart in the late 1980s and getting an electronics job at Tektronix and later at Intel; playing bass in the well-known Oregon band “Sam Hill” for 4 years, including touring in Alaska, Canada, and performing at one of the early Wintergrass festivals. In 2004, his Intel co-worker Bruce Peterson invited him to attend the Rambling Bluegrass Jam, so-named because its location kept changing until it found a long-lasting home at Papa’s Pizza in Beaverton. Rick became a regular at that jam, and a few others, until COVID-19 shut it down. These days you can find Rick playing fiddle with OOTFA, and at the recently revived McMenamin’s Rock Creek Tavern jam playing banjo and mandolin. Rick is always available to tell you what he knows about music, and he knows a lot! He enjoys attending the fiddle camps sponsored by OOTFA and WOTFA and the recently organized 1st and 3rd Wednesday bluegrass concerts at Cooper Mountain Ale Works in the old downtown Tigard area.

March 17 from 1-2 pm is our first gig of the year (WooHoo) in Dallas, Oregon, at Jefferson Lodge memory care unit. Address: 664 SE Jefferson St. Bring your instrument and any old-time tunes these folks might remember. Please let Marie know if you plan to join in. Email is best. bambailey36@yahoo.com.

Any procrastinators who haven't paid your dues yet can do so by contacting Marie Bailey, District 8 Membership Chair. This is the only way to make it easy for you to keep up on what's going on in your district as our reporter will only update current members.

If you haven't responded to our request as to “what is the main instrument that you play”, please respond to Marie Bailey at bambailey36@yahoo.com so we can call you if we need your particular instrument at an event.

From your District Officers: We need everyone to come out and play with us. All levels, so don't be shy. We especially need our better players also taking part to keep the audience engaged and our beginner level players motivated. We all love our beginners, but they can't be expected to carry the whole load and we also want to be asked to come back because the audience has been wowed with a wide level of talent. That's what brings in the funds to support the organization's activities. If you've only been interested in playing in the contests this is a reminder that if you are not supporting your district gigs there will be no funds to support contests.

FYI: out of 36 households in our district only 5-7 people have been active in holding office or supporting our jams and gigs. Are you one of the missing? I'd love to know why?

Note: The March 25 District 8 Jam will also be a district meeting. We need everyone involved in the decision making and sharing their ideas if we're to know what interests you enough to participate. Please mark the date and time. This is also a good chance to meet our newer members and all share music we love. We'll break at 3 pm for the meeting. Feel free to bring finger snacks.

Spring is just around the corner and opportunities to play will start coming in so let's get ready for lots more fun!

Marie says to add: one more piece of news: Gayle Clarity won 2nd place in the Sr. Sr. division at the Ajo Fiddle Contest.

Our Sunday Potluck and Jam was fun. We had the John Day crew of Ron Phillips, Ben Richardson, Carl Stinnett, and Rhonda Metler, playing their great numbers. Kiera Murphy added her fiddle for her first time, as well as the regulars. 13 musicians graced us with their music and that is a new record since the pandemic. The food was great and the company even better. One of our newest members, Leo Raymond celebrated his 90th birthday and retirement! Darlene Wingfield's daughter, Susie, was a special guest from Bakersfield, California. Thanks to Deborah Jay and Diane Slater for cleaning up after the potluck, as well as the rest who pitched in.

We played at the Crossroads Ranch of Harney County Fund-raiser on February 25th.

Even though the snow is still lingering, we are thinking ahead to our High Desert Music Jamboree on June 15,16, and 17. Hope you all can come.

My friend Paddy was recently in court! After an eight hour trial, he pleaded guilty. The judge said, “Why didn't you plead guilty at first and save the court all this time?” Paddy replied, “I thought I was innocent until I heard all the evidence!”

May the Luck of the Irish be with you!
